Shareholders who want to participate in the Annual General Meeting and exercise their right to vote are required to provide evidence of their ownership of shares to the company.
- (2) In order to verify share ownership of bearer shares in the company deposited with a depositary credit institution, it is sufficient to have a confirmation on the record date pursuant to § 10a Para. 2 Austrian Stock Corporation Act issued by a depositary credit institution whose registered office is in a member state of the European Economic Area, or in a full member state of the OECD (certificate of deposit). - (3) The certificate of deposit shall not be more than seven days old on the date it is presented to the company, and must be conveyed to the company in text form. - (3) If the shareholder grants a power of attorney to its depositary credit institution (§ 10a Austrian Stock Corporation Act, it will suffice if the credit institution declares, in addition to providing the certificate of deposit, that it has been granted power of attorney.

Section 27

- (1) The Chairman of the Supervisory Board or his deputy chairs the Annual General Meeting. If neither the Chairman nor the Deputy Chairman appears or is prepared to chair the meeting, then the notary appointed for the purposes of notarization shall chair the meeting with the purpose of electing a Chairman for the Annual General Meeting.

In cases which require a capital majority, resolutions are adopted by a simple majority of the share capital represented upon the passing of the resolution.
- (2) If no absolute majority is obtained on the first ballot of elections, a final ballot will be held between the two candidates who received the most votes. In the case of a tie, the Chairman of the meeting shall have the casting vote.

The Annual General Meeting may resolve to exclude all or any part of the net profit from the distribution. Contributions which were made during the course of the fiscal year shall be taken into account in proportion to the period of time that has elapsed since the contribution was paid in. For this purpose, only full months will be taken into account. In the case of a capital increase, the resolution on the increase of capital may determine a date, independent of the date on which the contributions were made, from which new shares shall be entitled to dividends. The holders of preferred shares shall receive an annual preferred dividend on their shares in the share capital attributable to the individual preferred shares.
